Nowadays, the princess's daughters have continued the royal patronage and Karen Mulder, Christie Brinkley, Gwyneth Paltrow and Isabelle Adjani are now also among her fans. Anne Sémonin, the exclusive parisian skincare brand, pioneered her effective holistic beauty approach over twenty five years ago. Anne Sémonin expertly utilises the vital forces of fresh herbs, plants, and seaweed to reawaken the senses to the excellent therapeutic benefits of natural products for beauty and well-being. A great testament to the success of its products, the Anne Sémonin highly trained team practice in the most carefully selected Spas in Europe and the World. Semonin exclusive products are in use and for sale in all five spas at Sani Resort, created from only natural ingredients in unique formulations and during treatments are personalised for each customer with optimum trace elements and essential oils. Treatments are accompanied by a hand massage, a warm or cool towel perfumed with essential oils and a herbal drink. Anne Sémonin professionals who are experts in their field, and in accordance with precise technical protocols have developed all the treatments and massages. The Anne Sémonin products are based on natural ingredients in the maximum concentrations allowed. They are formulated using innovative procedures, in collaboration with dermatologists and cosmetic surgeons.

Philosophy of beauty

In 1986, Anne Sémonin was the first brand to combine trace elements with essential oils and developed a series of treatments based on a holistic and personalized approach to beauty, using natural ingredients. The Anne Sémonin Concept has three parts; an Aromatherapy Line, a Methodology, a Spa Environment, and it is this trilogy that allows for a holistic approach to beauty. Anne Sémonin considers each individual as unique and designs treatments as genuine rituals. They begin with an initial consultation with the client in order to enable the therapist to devise a perfectly adapted program for the individual, using “custommade” preparations.
